Revival Conference — In November we had our annual Revival Conference. This year we were privileged to have veteran missionary Jeff Bassett come and be our guest speaker. With many years experience in Ivory Coast and now here in Uganda, he was able to bring messages that were exactly what our church needed. Many hearts were convicted and we thank the Lord for what He is still doing in the lives of our church members.

“Commit thou to faithful men” - Paul told Timothy that the things he had learned from Paul he was to teach to faithful men. As we are preparing for our upcoming furlough we have begun to see how God has given us faithful men who will be able to lead and continue the ministry in our absence. Brother Busoolo John, who graduated on the 24th of January and is our first graduate from our Bible institute, will be leading the ministry with the help of several other men who are currently studying in the Bible institute. These men have a desire to serve the Lord, and we know that while we are gone the devil will fight both them and the ministry. Please be in prayer for these specific men: Busoolo John, Ochieng Daniel, Wekaso Davis, Padde Andrew and Kivumbi Michael.

2010 Furlough — On February 26 we will be arriving in the States for our furlough. If you send any correspondence to our field address in Uganda, please begin sending all correspondence to our home church (address on left side of stationary). The Family Corner

-Jacky Stensaas

Growing up I loved missionaries. I loved hearing their stories about people being saved, but I also wanted to get to know them on a personal basis. Through this “family corner” I want try to welcome you into our home and share with you what life is like living in Africa.

Some people may think, “Poor missionaries—missing out on all America has to offer.” Quite the contrary! We are privileged to serve the Lord and He gives us many opportunities other people would never have! How many children get to play with chameleons in the back yard or see crocodiles swimming in the Nile River? How many children get to grow up with the consciousness that people need to be saved! One day, while driving through town, one of our children said, “There are so many people who will go to hell if we don’t tell them about Jesus.” We count it a privilege to raise our children in Africa and pray that they will grow up, always wanting to serve the Lord.
